Day September 1st. 2023 Santiago de Chile Puerto Montt – Puerto Varas (BL + C)

Transfer from the Airport to the Hotel.

After we will travel along the southern shore of Llanquihue Lake to the town of Ensenada, always with the view to the volcanoes Osorno and Calbuco. The Calbuco volcano had its last eruption on April 22, 2015. A large column of high-altitude gases was emitted, throwing out ash, some stones and a significant amount of lahars. The eruption caused damage to the surrounding communities, and to many apiarists in the area who now can tell about their recovery. We will visit a small beekeeper in Ensenada, and on this occasion we will personally know how these specialized farmers produce delicious honey. Then we will visit the Petrohué Falls, the ideal place to see the impressive waterfalls and the spectacular native forests. Enjoy nature and impact your senses with a walk through the Valdivian jungle. Return to your Hotel and Dinner.

Accommodation at Hotel in Puerto Varas.

Day September 2nd 2023 Puerto Varas – Rupanco Lake

Breakfast. Departure for the Apicultural Tour, we will head towards Rupanco Lake, always with the impressive views of the Puntagudo and Osorno volcanoes. We will visit Alexander Setzer and Lutz Kindermann, two Germans who left their lives in Europe to dedicate themselves to the production of organic honey in southern Chile. Where native forest is abundant and thanks to its flora it can produce multiflora. Some of them are composed mainly of Ulmo. Lunch near Puerto Octay. We will visit Frutillar and see its beautiful village and Museum of German Colonization.
